

Called to Serve

As part of one human family, created by God, we are all called to care for and love one another. Some people live that call in exceptional ways. In the space below, design two medals recognizing people you know or have heard about who have made a difference in the world by their actions. Then award the third medal to yourself. In that space, write your name and describe an action you aspire to that will help make the world a better place.
